

NEWPORT LOCALS

Miss Mildred Roy has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Frost in Richmond.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. True are spending several days in Boston.

Bruce Renihan, who is with the Western Electric Co., in Springfield is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Renihan.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Moulton spent the holidays with Mr. Moulton's parents, Dr. and Mrs. C. A. Moulton in Derby Line.

Bury is a business visitor in the R. R. Spaulding of St. Johnsbury.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Smith of Barton, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Kennison and daughter of Albany, Bradley Sanborn and son Martin.

NEWPORT BUSINESS DIRECTORY

ERNEST L. HUNT
Registered Optometrist and Ophthalmic. Specialist in Spectacle and Eye glass fitting.
602 E. Main St., Newport, Vt.
Write or phone 145-21 for appointment.

DR. HARRY F. HAMILTON
DENTAL SURGERY
X-Ray Service
Complete Gas and Oxygen equipment for painless dentistry.
Office hours: 8:30 to 12, 1:30 to 4
Tel. 278 Gilmann's Block

E. H. HOWE
Successor to HOWE & STOWE.
REAL ESTATE, NEWPORT
Tel. 175 Root's Block

HEMSTITCHING
Latest styles, buttons covered to order. Mail orders filled promptly.
Misses Trudeau & Wheeler
41-1-2 Main Street, Tel. 38-1

C. A. Cramton, M. D.
Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat
Main St., St. Johnsbury, Vt.
Appointments for examination or glasses by letter or telephone

The Spot
FOR
Cleaning, Pressing and Repairing
E. ROUSSEAU
Hurst Restaurant Block, Newport

Radio Service and Supplies
FORREST DREW
at Newport Electric Shop
73 Main Street
Newport, Vermont

The Little Shop for Crippled Furniture
See me before throwing aside old pieces or buying new
JOSEPH MORIN
Cabinet-maker and Carpenter
Glen Road, Newport
Tel. 63-2

Raisin Filled Cookies
Fine for Afternoon Tea

Hamblett's NEWPORT BAKERY
Tel. 213-3

SERVICE GARAGE
Cars remodelled, overhauled and painted. All classes of machine work done.
East Main St., Newport

PREMIER THEATRE
Newport Vermont

TONIGHT
Jack Holt and Agnes Ayers in "Bought and Paid For" and Bull Montana in "A Lady's Man"

COMING
New Years Day—Thomas Meighan and His Five Kiddies in "The Bachelor Daddy"
and Buster Keaton in "The Frozen North"

COMMONWEALTH HOTEL
Bowdoin Street, Beacon Hill
Opposite State House
Boston, Mass.
Strictly Fireproof
Write for Rates

Hotel Avery
Every Room with Bath and Shower
Avery Street, Boston
Every Room with Bath and Shower
Morse Brothers, Managing Directors

---COUPON---

LOWNEY'S COOK BOOK

Save six of these coupons and mail or bring them to the Caledonian-Record office with 95 cents and you will receive the latest

LOWNEY'S COOK BOOK

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hannant of Irasburg and Miss Vera Smith of Orleans were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Orrin Niles, Newport Center Road.

Delos Buck has been confined to the house for several days on account of a slight injury to his ankle which had become infected.

Miss Dorothy Spear has returned to her work in Boston after spending a week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Spear.

Mrs. Stowe, of North Ave., who suffered a shock a few days ago lies in a very critical condition, with small hope of recovery. Mrs. Stowe is a lady of advanced years, having passed her eighty second birthday.

O. C. Rivard spent the Christmas holidays with relatives in Littleton, N. H.

Dr. Edward Miller of the Montreal General Hospital has been visiting his aunt, Mrs. L. J. Currier.

Miss Mary Jean Elder entertained at her home in Beebe Thursday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Lewis, Edwin and David Camp and Miss Ruth Mellon of Derby Line.

Edward Vigneault of Florence, Mass., has been visiting his niece and nephew Mr. and Mrs. Claude Rivard returning Thursday night.

Mrs. Ethel Stebbins of St. Albans was a recent guest of her sister, Mrs. Annie Davis.

Fred L. Blake Jr. of Boston is home for a weeks vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Blake, Glen Road.

Mrs. F. D. Flint was the hostess this week for the Thursday Bridge Club and entertained at luncheon in honor of Mrs. A. S. Hart, Mrs. G. L. Masdarmid and Mrs. Charles Ramsdell who are soon to go south for the winter. Mr. and Mrs. Ramsdell, Mrs. Masdarmid and Mrs. Hart expect to leave Tuesday for St. Petersburg, Fla.

Miss Loyahst Smith has returned to her work at the Boston and Maine freight office.

Despite the present weather conditions, work at the Boston and Maine transfer continues to be very heavy. Eleven crews of seventy five men working seven days in the week are unable to keep ahead of the rush of freight.

Members of Lakeside Chapter, O. E. S. and their friends were entertained with a Christmas tree and gifts after the special meeting on Thursday evening. Four candidates were initiated. A pleasing piano duet by Mrs. John Kipp and Mrs. I. C. Bryant and readings by Mrs. Fred Kenerson were much enjoyed, after which the company repaired to the dining rooms for delicious coffee and doughnuts.

Mr. and Mrs. Harley Leland of Burlington are visiting Mr. Leland's mother, Mrs. B. F. Jackman, East Main Street.

The basket ball game between Newport High and Derby Academy, which was to have been a double header was cancelled yesterday on account of the sudden death of Mr. Lewis of Derby, father of one of the players on the Derby team. This game will be played off at some later date.

THE TORTURE OF INDIGESTION
Thousands Relieved by Taking "Fruit-a-tives"
The Famous Fruit Medicine

What is indigestion and what causes it? As you know, solid food must be changed into a liquid by the stomach before it can be taken up as nourishment by the blood.

The stomach acts as a churn. It is covered by a strong, muscular coat and lined with a soft, delicate membrane which secretes the Gastric Juice which digests or dissolves solid food.

When food enters the stomach, the muscular coat squeezes and presses the food from end to end, or churns it, with the gastric juice to dissolve or digest it.

But—if the stomach muscles are weak—or if the dissolving fluid is poor or insufficient—then food cannot be digested properly and you have indigestion.

"Fruit-a-tives" or "Fruit Laxo Tablets" are made from concentrated and intensified fruit juices and tonics. They will positively cure indigestion and dyspepsia because they tone up the stomach, bowels, kidneys and skin, and thus insure pure gastric juice and improved digestion.

"Fruit-a-tives", the only medicine made from fruit juices, will correct your indigestion and enable you to enjoy every meal. Try this wonderful fruit medicine. 50c a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size 25c. At dealers or from FRUIT-A-TIVES Limited, OGDENSBURG, N. Y.

Matthews Wants to Come to St. Johnsbury
Continued from Page One
write up on your sporting page saying that Matthews is again ready to bring his team to St. Johnsbury.

Yours in sport
J. L. BAPTISTE
The clipping giving the account of the game showed a 26 to 21 score with Matthews team on the heavy end. The line up of the team this year gives such as follows: Ray Galt, "Flip" Dowling, "Toby" himself, "Sandy" Phillips and none others than "Indian" and "Heine" Grobe, two as fast men as ever trod a court.

"Toby" is no more anxious to come than St. Johnsbury is to have him and the management of the Company D team expect that they will be able to arrange a game with that peer of all teams in the near future.

Mrs. Hitchcock Dies at Newport
Mrs. C. P. Hitchcock, sixty-five years of age, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. O. L. Kelley in Newport Thursday afternoon at three o'clock.

She had been ill for eleven months and death was due to a complication of troubles. Funeral services have not as yet been arranged, but interment will be at North Troy.

Mrs. Hitchcock was born in Bakersfield in 1857 and after her marriage to C. P. Hitchcock of Westfield. Nearly all of her life was spent in North Troy.

She leaves, besides her daughter, Mrs. O. L. Kelley of Derby Center, a son, Clayton D. Hitchcock of New Britain, Conn., and a sister, Mrs. Nettie Burt of Lunenburg. She was a faithful and devoted member of the Congregational church in North Troy for more than thirty years, and her life was full of kind deeds for others. Amid the cares of a busy life she always found time for sympathy and neighborly kindness.

West Waterford
Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Chandler entertained a large party of friends Christmas day.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew McKee had seventeen at their Christmas dinner.

Helen Chandler, Grace McKee, Reginald Hovey are at home for the holidays.

St. Johnsbury Center
Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Parks and son Kenneth spent Christmas with Mrs. Parks' mother and sister in St. Johnsbury.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Lyons and infant son spent the Christmas with relatives in Westmore.

Frances Lewis had the misfortune of breaking an ankle bone while coasting Wednesday night.

The annual business meeting of the Congregational church will be held Wednesday evening, January 3. The following evening, January 4 will be a free social. The community cordially invited.

Mrs. Charles Bugley of Kirby is visiting Mrs. Ed Drew.

A pleasant farewell surprise party was given to Mr. and Mrs. Walter Sawyer by many friends and fellow grangers of this community. A purse of money was presented to them by D. D. Gray. Light refreshments were served and the evening was spent in dancing. Mr. and Mrs. Sawyer are active members of Wide Awake Grange. Mr. Sawyer being Past Master Mr. and Mrs. Sawyer leave Saturday for Edna, N. H. where they will make their home.

Going South?
If you are contemplating a trip south, let me give you full particulars about hotels, boarding houses and special attractions at

MIAMI
The most beautiful and popular winter resort in FLORIDA
A land of seascapes and perpetual sunshine.
J. H. BOWMAN
114 Church Street, Burlington, Vermont

COMMONWEALTH HOTEL
Bowdoin Street, Beacon Hill
Opposite State House
Boston, Mass.
Strictly Fireproof
Write for Rates

Hotel Avery
Every Room with Bath and Shower
Avery Street, Boston
Every Room with Bath and Shower
Morse Brothers, Managing Directors

COMING
New Years Day—Thomas Meighan and His Five Kiddies in "The Bachelor Daddy"
and Buster Keaton in "The Frozen North"

---COUPON---

LOWNEY'S COOK BOOK

Save six of these coupons and mail or bring them to the Caledonian-Record office with 95 cents and you will receive the latest

LOWNEY'S COOK BOOK

The duke of Leinster says that American girls are the prettiest in the world, and very few of them

THE TORTURE OF INDIGESTION

Thousands Relieved by Taking "Fruit-a-tives"

The Famous Fruit Medicine

What is indigestion and what causes it? As you know, solid food must be changed into a liquid by the stomach before it can be taken up as nourishment by the blood.

The stomach acts as a churn. It is covered by a strong, muscular coat and lined with a soft, delicate membrane which secretes the Gastric Juice which digests or dissolves solid food.

When food enters the stomach, the muscular coat squeezes and presses the food from end to end, or churns it, with the gastric juice to dissolve or digest it.

But—if the stomach muscles are weak—or if the dissolving fluid is poor or insufficient—then food cannot be digested properly and you have indigestion.

"Fruit-a-tives" or "Fruit Laxo Tablets" are made from concentrated and intensified fruit juices and tonics. They will positively cure indigestion and dyspepsia because they tone up the stomach, bowels, kidneys and skin, and thus insure pure gastric juice and improved digestion.

"Fruit-a-tives", the only medicine made from fruit juices, will correct your indigestion and enable you to enjoy every meal. Try this wonderful fruit medicine. 50c a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size 25c. At dealers or from FRUIT-A-TIVES Limited, OGDENSBURG, N. Y.

Matthews Wants to Come to St. Johnsbury
Continued from Page One
write up on your sporting page saying that Matthews is again ready to bring his team to St. Johnsbury.

Yours in sport
J. L. BAPTISTE
The clipping giving the account of the game showed a 26 to 21 score with Matthews team on the heavy end. The line up of the team this year gives such as follows: Ray Galt, "Flip" Dowling, "Toby" himself, "Sandy" Phillips and none others than "Indian" and "Heine" Grobe, two as fast men as ever trod a court.

"Toby" is no more anxious to come than St. Johnsbury is to have him and the management of the Company D team expect that they will be able to arrange a game with that peer of all teams in the near future.

Mrs. Hitchcock Dies at Newport
Mrs. C. P. Hitchcock, sixty-five years of age, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. O. L. Kelley in Newport Thursday afternoon at three o'clock.

She had been ill for eleven months and death was due to a complication of troubles. Funeral services have not as yet been arranged, but interment will be at North Troy.

Mrs. Hitchcock was born in Bakersfield in 1857 and after her marriage to C. P. Hitchcock of Westfield. Nearly all of her life was spent in North Troy.

She leaves, besides her daughter, Mrs. O. L. Kelley of Derby Center, a son, Clayton D. Hitchcock of New Britain, Conn., and a sister, Mrs. Nettie Burt of Lunenburg. She was a faithful and devoted member of the Congregational church in North Troy for more than thirty years, and her life was full of kind deeds for others. Amid the cares of a busy life she always found time for sympathy and neighborly kindness.

West Waterford
Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Chandler entertained a large party of friends Christmas day.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew McKee had seventeen at their Christmas dinner.

Helen Chandler, Grace McKee, Reginald Hovey are at home for the holidays.

St. Johnsbury Center
Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Parks and son Kenneth spent Christmas with Mrs. Parks' mother and sister in St. Johnsbury.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Lyons and infant son spent the Christmas with relatives in Westmore.

Frances Lewis had the misfortune of breaking an ankle bone while coasting Wednesday night.

The annual business meeting of the Congregational church will be held Wednesday evening, January 3. The following evening, January 4 will be a free social. The community cordially invited.

Mrs. Charles Bugley of Kirby is visiting Mrs. Ed Drew.

A pleasant farewell surprise party was given to Mr. and Mrs. Walter Sawyer by many friends and fellow grangers of this community. A purse of money was presented to them by D. D. Gray. Light refreshments were served and the evening was spent in dancing. Mr. and Mrs. Sawyer are active members of Wide Awake Grange. Mr. Sawyer being Past Master Mr. and Mrs. Sawyer leave Saturday for Edna, N. H. where they will make their home.

Going South?
If you are contemplating a trip south, let me give you full particulars about hotels, boarding houses and special attractions at

MIAMI
The most beautiful and popular winter resort in FLORIDA
A land of seascapes and perpetual sunshine.
J. H. BOWMAN
114 Church Street, Burlington, Vermont

COMMONWEALTH HOTEL
Bowdoin Street, Beacon Hill
Opposite State House
Boston, Mass.
Strictly Fireproof
Write for Rates

Hotel Avery
Every Room with Bath and Shower
Avery Street, Boston
Every Room with Bath and Shower
Morse Brothers, Managing Directors

COMING
New Years Day—Thomas Meighan and His Five Kiddies in "The Bachelor Daddy"
and Buster Keaton in "The Frozen North"

---COUPON---

LOWNEY'S COOK BOOK

Save six of these coupons and mail or bring them to the Caledonian-Record office with 95 cents and you will receive the latest

LOWNEY'S COOK BOOK

The duke of Leinster says that American girls are the prettiest in the world, and very few of them

"Antis" Routed In Bovine T. B. Test Meeting

Continued from page 1)
strongly favoring the continuation of eradication and control of bovine tuberculosis carried on by the State and Nation, and favor an increased appropriation for the purpose.

In spite of the fact that there was no dissenting voice when the resolution was acted upon, a few minutes later, when all those who were in complete accord with what seemed to be the prevailing sentiment of the meeting were asked to stand, six of the 64 present at that time remained in their seats.

A discussion was carried on of the charges against the method in which the law is being enforced, which charges were made by the "antis" before the morning meeting degenerated into a bedlam. It was felt that there was some justice in some of the charges made, and Mr. Lawson was brought before the meeting to tell his story of the arrogant and careless manner in which he was treated by one of the veterinaries, of how two of his cattle were killed after a superficial examination and of how, basing his opinion upon a laboratory examination of the most affected parts, the Bureau of Animal Disease declared that the animals were not tubercular.

Many of the most ardent advocates of eradication stated that they also had either had trouble with this veterinary, or that some of their neighbors had; and many thought he should be removed from his position, or transferred to another district. No motion to this effect was made, however, but a motion was passed as sort of an informal resolution recommending that only veterinaries whose work gave satisfaction, shall be employed.

It was pointed out, however, that because of the inefficiency of one veterinary the whole scheme should not be discarded, any more than the entire public school system flayed because of one "fool school master." The meeting designated a committee, made up of Roy Smith of Barre, P. Greig of Plainfield and Earl Maxham of Barre, to investigate complaints made at the morning meeting and to recommend changes where necessary. Dr. Fisenhoff, the veterinary against whom the brunt of the hostility was manifested, was verbally lashed even by those in favor of eradication, but no action was taken on the suggestion that his removal be recommended. One farmer thought he might do well if transferred to another district, and by changing his tactics, win the confidence of the people.

To offset the pressure that it is expected will be brought to bear upon the legislature to discontinue the eradication work, the "pros" mapped out a lively campaign and promised to keep on the alert that nothing was put over. A committee to consider plans for this was appointed, made up of T. Redfield Phillips of Montpelier, C. W. Fitch of East Montpelier, S. W. Gupit of Waterbury, Roy Smith of Barre and P. Greig of Plainfield.

Much time was devoted to an open forum, when a large number present related personal experiences tending to show that in general the work of eradication is carried on in fine shape, and that it is necessary from the view-point of health. A pathetic note was contributed by a Mr. Webster, who, to show that tuberculosis can be transmitted from the cow to the consumer of her milk, related with sobs and tears the story of the death from tuberculosis of his infant child which was being fed on the milk of a cow which was later found to be tubercular. John Lawson, whose testimony was about all the evidence the "antis" got in their morning session, declared that he was not irreconcilably opposed to eradication. Though he resented his treatment at the hands of Dr. Fisenhoff.

Thus it was that a meeting called by the anti-eradication forces was turned into an overwhelming triumph for the "pros." After their rout of the morning, Messrs. Martin, Andrus and Co., did not return to see the battle through. After waiting patiently for some time, the "pros" decided that as long as the "antis" weren't going to start the fireworks, they would do so, with the result above described. But not to be selfish in any way, a committee of three hussies under J. E. Greene of Waterbury was commissioned to summon Martin and Andrus, and invite them to listen in and perhaps say a few words. Though the gentlemen were found, they refused to go near the meeting so contaminated by "gruffers," even when physical force was threatened. The only message they would send to the meeting was an emphatic command and heart-felt desire that all present could "go to h—l," the quicker the better. To cap the climax the "pros" passed a resolution thanking the "antis" for calling the meeting.

It was rumored about the hall in the afternoon that Burton E. Bailey, Democratic representative-elect from Montpelier, had engineered the meeting. Mr. Bailey denied this, admitting however that he had engaged the hall. He explained that a group had consulted him about a possible place in Montpelier to hold such a meeting and that he had secured the Memorial Room for them. His connection with the meeting ended there. He stated that he had intended to get over and listen to the arguments, as he is making a study of the question before he comes to a decision as to the merits or demerits of eradication. Until the completion of this study, he said, his stand on the question will not be determined. Shortly after the morning session came to an end, Mr. Bailey put in an appearance and engaged in lively arguments with the proponents of eradication, which would seem to indicate that at present he inclines toward the stand-point of the "pros."

Continued from page 1)
strongly favoring the continuation of eradication and control of bovine tuberculosis carried on by the State and Nation, and favor an increased appropriation for the purpose.

In spite of the fact that there was no dissenting voice when the resolution was acted upon, a few minutes later, when all those who were in complete accord with what seemed to be the prevailing sentiment of the meeting were asked to stand, six of the 64 present at that time remained in their seats.

A discussion was carried on of the charges against the method in which the law is being enforced, which charges were made by the "antis" before the morning meeting degenerated into a bedlam. It was felt that there was some justice in some of the charges made, and Mr. Lawson was brought before the meeting to tell his story of the arrogant and careless manner in which he was treated by one of the veterinaries, of how two of his cattle were killed after a superficial examination and of how, basing his opinion upon a laboratory examination of the most affected parts, the Bureau of Animal Disease declared that the animals were not tubercular.

Many of the most ardent advocates of eradication stated that they also had either had trouble with this veterinary, or that some of their neighbors had; and many thought he should be removed from his position, or transferred to another district. No motion to this effect was made, however, but a motion was passed as sort of an informal resolution recommending that only veterinaries whose work gave satisfaction, shall be employed.

It was pointed out, however, that because of the inefficiency of one veterinary the whole scheme should not be discarded, any more than the entire public school system flayed because of one "fool school master." The meeting designated a committee, made up of Roy Smith of Barre, P. Greig of Plainfield and Earl Maxham of Barre, to investigate complaints made at the morning meeting and to recommend changes where necessary. Dr. Fisenhoff, the veterinary against whom the brunt of the hostility was manifested, was verbally lashed even by those in favor of eradication, but no action was taken on the suggestion that his removal be recommended. One farmer thought he might do well if transferred to another district, and by changing his tactics, win the confidence of the people.

To offset the pressure that it is expected will be brought to bear upon the legislature to discontinue the eradication work, the "pros" mapped out a lively campaign and promised to keep on the alert that nothing was put over. A committee to consider plans for this was appointed, made up of T. Redfield Phillips of Montpelier, C. W. Fitch of East Montpelier, S. W. Gupit of Waterbury, Roy Smith of Barre and P. Greig of Plainfield.

Much time was devoted to an open forum, when a large number present related personal experiences tending to show that in general the work of eradication is carried on in fine shape, and that it is necessary from the view-point of health. A pathetic note was contributed by a Mr. Webster, who, to show that tuberculosis can be transmitted from the cow to the consumer of her milk, related with sobs and tears the story of the death from tuberculosis of his infant child which was being fed on the milk of a cow which was later found to be tubercular. John Lawson, whose testimony was about all the evidence the "antis" got in their morning session, declared that he was not irreconcilably opposed to eradication. Though he resented his treatment at the hands of Dr. Fisenhoff.

Thus it was that a meeting called by the anti-eradication forces was turned into an overwhelming triumph for the "pros." After their rout of the morning, Messrs. Martin, Andrus and Co., did not return to see the battle through. After waiting patiently for some time, the "pros" decided that as long as the "antis" weren't going to start the fireworks, they would do so, with the result above described. But not to be selfish in any way, a committee of three hussies under J. E. Greene of Waterbury was commissioned to summon Martin and Andrus, and invite them to listen in and perhaps say a few words. Though the gentlemen were found, they refused to go near the meeting so contaminated by "gruffers," even when physical force was threatened. The only message they would send to the meeting was an emphatic command and heart-felt desire that all present could "go to h—l," the quicker the better. To cap the climax the "pros" passed a resolution thanking the "antis" for calling the meeting.

It was rumored about the hall in the afternoon that Burton E. Bailey, Democratic representative-elect from Montpelier, had engineered the meeting. Mr. Bailey denied this, admitting however that he had engaged the hall. He explained that a group had consulted him about a possible place in Montpelier to hold such a meeting and that he had secured the Memorial Room for them. His connection with the meeting ended there. He stated that he had intended to get over and listen to the arguments, as he is making a study of the question before he comes to a decision as to the merits or demerits of eradication. Until the completion of this study, he said, his stand on the question will not be determined. Shortly after the morning session came to an end, Mr. Bailey put in an appearance and engaged in lively arguments with the proponents of eradication, which would seem to indicate that at present he inclines toward the stand-point of the "pros."

Continued from page 1)
strongly favoring the continuation of eradication and control of bovine tuberculosis carried on by the State and Nation, and favor an increased appropriation for the purpose.

In spite of the fact that there was no dissenting voice when the resolution was acted upon, a few minutes later, when all those who were in complete accord with what seemed to be the prevailing sentiment of the meeting were asked to stand, six of the 64 present at that time remained in their seats.

A discussion was carried on of the charges against the method in which the law is being enforced, which charges were made by the "antis" before the morning meeting degenerated into a bedlam. It was felt that there was some justice in some of the charges made, and Mr. Lawson was brought before the meeting to tell his story of the arrogant and careless manner in which he was treated by one of the veterinaries, of how two of his cattle were killed after a superficial examination and of how, basing his opinion upon a laboratory examination of the most affected parts, the Bureau of Animal Disease declared that the animals were not tubercular.

Many of the most ardent advocates of eradication stated that they also had either had trouble with this veterinary, or that some of their neighbors had; and many thought he should be removed from his position, or transferred to another district. No motion to this effect was made, however, but a motion was passed as sort of an informal resolution recommending that only veterinaries whose work gave satisfaction, shall be employed.

It was pointed out, however, that because of the inefficiency of one veterinary the whole scheme should not be discarded, any more than the entire public school system flayed because of one "fool school master." The meeting designated a committee, made up of Roy Smith of Barre, P. Greig of Plainfield and Earl Maxham of Barre, to investigate complaints made at the morning meeting and to recommend changes where necessary. Dr. Fisenhoff, the veterinary against whom the brunt of the hostility was manifested, was verbally lashed even by those in favor of eradication, but no action was taken on the suggestion that his removal be recommended. One farmer thought he might do well if transferred to another district, and by changing his tactics, win the confidence of the people.

To offset the pressure that it is expected will be brought to bear upon the legislature to discontinue the eradication work, the "pros" mapped out a lively campaign and promised to keep on the alert that nothing was put over. A committee to consider plans for this was appointed, made up of T. Redfield Phillips of Montpelier, C. W. Fitch of East Montpelier, S. W. Gupit of Waterbury, Roy Smith of Barre and P. Greig of Plainfield.

Much time was devoted to an open forum, when a large number present related personal experiences tending to show that in general the work of eradication is carried on in fine shape, and that it is necessary from the view-point of health. A pathetic note was contributed by a Mr. Webster, who, to show that tuberculosis can be transmitted from the cow to the consumer of her milk, related with sobs and tears the story of the death from tuberculosis of his infant child which was being fed on the milk of a cow which was later found to be tubercular. John Lawson, whose testimony was about all the evidence the "antis" got in their morning session, declared that he was not irreconcilably opposed to eradication. Though he resented his treatment at the hands of Dr. Fisenhoff.

Thus it was that a meeting called by the anti-eradication forces was turned into an overwhelming triumph for the "pros." After their rout of the morning, Messrs. Martin, Andrus and Co., did not return to see the battle through. After waiting patiently for some time, the "pros" decided that as long as the "antis" weren't going to start the fireworks, they would do so, with the result above described. But not to be selfish in any way, a committee of three hussies under J. E. Greene of Waterbury was commissioned to summon Martin and Andrus, and invite them to listen in and perhaps say a few words. Though the gentlemen were found, they refused to go near the meeting so contaminated by "gruffers," even when physical force was threatened. The only message they would send to the meeting was an emphatic command and heart-felt desire that all present could "go to h—l," the quicker the better. To cap the climax the "pros" passed a resolution thanking the "antis" for calling the meeting.

It was rumored about the hall in the afternoon that Burton E. Bailey, Democratic representative-elect from Montpelier, had engineered the meeting. Mr. Bailey denied this, admitting however that he had engaged the hall. He explained that a group had consulted him about a possible place in Montpelier to hold such a meeting and that he had secured the Memorial Room for them. His connection with the meeting ended there. He stated that he had intended to get over and listen to the arguments, as he is making a study of the question before he comes to a decision as to the merits or demerits of eradication. Until the completion of this study, he said, his stand on the question will not be determined. Shortly after the morning session came to an end, Mr. Bailey put in an appearance and engaged in lively arguments with the proponents of eradication, which would seem to indicate that at present he inclines toward the stand-point of the "pros."

Continued from page 1)
strongly favoring the continuation of eradication and control of bovine tuberculosis carried on by the State and Nation, and favor an increased appropriation for the purpose.

In spite of the fact that there was no dissenting voice when the resolution was acted upon, a few minutes later, when all those who were in complete accord with what seemed to be the prevailing sentiment of the meeting were asked to stand, six of the 64 present at that time remained in their seats.

A discussion was carried on of the charges against the method in which the law is being enforced, which charges were made by the "antis" before the morning meeting degenerated into a bedlam. It was felt that there was some justice in some of the charges made, and Mr. Lawson was brought before the meeting to tell his story of the arrogant and careless manner in which he was treated by one of the veterinaries, of how two of his cattle were killed after a superficial examination and of how, basing his opinion upon a laboratory examination of the most affected parts, the Bureau of Animal Disease declared that the animals were not tubercular.

Many of the most ardent advocates of eradication stated that they also had either had trouble with this veterinary, or that some of their neighbors had; and many thought he should be removed from his position, or transferred to another district. No motion to this effect was made, however, but a motion was passed as sort of an informal resolution recommending that only veterinaries whose work gave satisfaction, shall be employed.

It was pointed out, however, that because of the inefficiency of one veterinary the whole scheme should not be discarded, any more than the entire public school system flayed because of one "fool school master." The meeting designated a committee, made up of Roy Smith of Barre, P. Greig of Plainfield and Earl Maxham of Barre, to investigate complaints made at the morning meeting and to recommend changes where necessary. Dr. Fisenhoff, the veterinary against whom the brunt of the hostility was manifested, was verbally lashed even by those in favor of eradication, but no action was taken on the suggestion that his removal be recommended. One farmer thought he might do well if transferred to another district, and by changing his tactics, win the confidence of the people.

To offset the pressure that it is expected will be brought to bear upon the legislature to discontinue the eradication work, the "pros" mapped out a lively campaign and promised to keep on the alert that nothing was put over. A committee to consider plans for this was appointed, made up of T. Redfield Phillips of Montpelier, C. W. Fitch of East Montpelier, S. W. Gupit of Waterbury, Roy Smith of Barre and P. Greig of Plainfield.

Much time was devoted to an open forum, when a large number present related personal experiences tending to show that in general the work of eradication is carried on in fine shape, and that it is necessary from the view-point of health. A pathetic note was contributed by a Mr. Webster, who, to show that tuberculosis can be transmitted from the cow to the consumer of her milk, related with sobs and tears the story of the death from tuberculosis of his infant child which was being fed on the milk of a cow which was later found to be tubercular. John Lawson, whose testimony was about all the evidence the "antis" got in their morning session, declared that he was not irreconcilably opposed to eradication. Though he resented his treatment at the hands of Dr. Fisenhoff.

Thus it was that a meeting called by the anti-eradication forces was turned into an overwhelming triumph for the "pros." After their rout of the morning, Messrs. Martin, Andrus and Co., did not return to see the battle through. After waiting patiently for some time, the "pros" decided that as long as the "antis" weren't going to start the fireworks, they would do so, with the result above described. But not to be selfish in any way, a committee of three hussies under J. E. Greene of Waterbury was commissioned to summon Martin and Andrus, and invite them to listen in and perhaps say a few words. Though the gentlemen were found, they refused to go near the meeting so contaminated by "gruffers," even when physical force was threatened. The only message they would send to the meeting was an emphatic command and heart-felt desire that all present could "go to h—l," the quicker the better. To cap the climax the "pros" passed a resolution thanking the "antis" for calling the meeting.

It was rumored about the hall in the afternoon that Burton E. Bailey, Democratic representative-elect from Montpelier, had engineered the meeting. Mr. Bailey denied this, admitting however that he had engaged the hall. He explained that a group had consulted him about a possible place in Montpelier to hold such a meeting and that he had secured the Memorial Room for them. His connection with the meeting ended there. He stated that he had intended to get over and listen to the arguments, as he is making a study of the question before he comes to a decision as to the merits or demerits of eradication. Until the completion of this study, he said, his stand on the question will not be determined. Shortly after the morning session came to an end, Mr. Bailey put in an appearance and engaged in lively arguments with the proponents of eradication, which would seem to indicate that at present he inclines toward the stand-point of the "pros."

Continued from page 1)
strongly favoring the continuation of eradication and control of bovine tuberculosis carried on by the State and Nation, and favor an increased appropriation for the purpose.

In spite of the fact that there was no dissenting voice when the resolution was acted upon, a few minutes later, when all those who were in complete accord with what seemed to be the prevailing sentiment of the meeting were asked to stand, six of the 64 present at that time remained in their seats.

A discussion was carried on of the charges against the method in which the law is being enforced, which charges were made by the "antis" before the morning meeting degenerated into a bedlam. It was felt that there was some justice in some of the charges made, and Mr. Lawson was brought before the meeting to tell his story of the arrogant and careless manner in which he was treated by one of the veterinaries, of how two of his cattle were killed after a superficial examination and of how, basing his opinion upon a laboratory examination of the most affected parts, the Bureau of Animal Disease declared that the animals were not tubercular.

Many of the most ardent advocates of eradication stated that they also had either had trouble with this veterinary, or that some of their neighbors had; and many thought he should be removed from his position, or transferred to another district. No motion to this effect was made, however, but a motion was passed as sort of an informal resolution recommending that only veterinaries whose work gave satisfaction, shall be employed.

It was pointed out, however, that because of the inefficiency of one veterinary the whole scheme should not be discarded, any more than the entire public school system flayed because of one "fool school master." The meeting designated a committee, made up of Roy Smith of Barre, P. Greig of Plainfield and Earl Maxham of Barre, to investigate complaints made at the morning meeting and to recommend changes where necessary. Dr. Fisenhoff, the veterinary against whom the brunt of the hostility was manifested, was verbally lashed even by those in favor of eradication, but no action was taken on the suggestion that his removal be recommended. One farmer thought he might do well if transferred to another district, and by changing his tactics, win the confidence of the people.

To offset the pressure that it is expected will be brought to bear upon the legislature to discontinue the eradication work, the "pros" mapped out a lively campaign and promised to keep on the alert that nothing was put over. A committee to consider plans for this was appointed, made up of T. Redfield Phillips of Montpelier, C. W. Fitch of East Montpelier, S. W. Gupit of Waterbury, Roy Smith of Barre and P. Greig of Plainfield.

Much time was devoted to an open forum, when a large number present related personal experiences tending to show that in general the work of eradication is carried on in fine shape, and that it is necessary from the view-point of health. A pathetic note was contributed by a Mr. Webster, who, to show that tuberculosis can be transmitted from the cow to the consumer of her milk, related with sobs and tears the story of the death from tuberculosis